APPOMATTOX F. F. A. BOYS TAKE PRIZES AT FAIR

Several Appomattox F. F. A. boys won a large share of the prize money at the Farmville Fair last week. Competition in the contests came from five surrounding counties.

Leading in the winnings column was Dennis Torrence, a senior F. F. A. members. Dennis won four prizes. His Holstein heifer was named Grand Champion heifer. He won first prize in the Senior Holstein Heifer class, first prize on farm gates, and continued his earnings by taking first place in the tractor driving contest.

Brod Pack won third prize in the Junior Heifer Class. Leroy Williamson took third prize in the Senior Heifer Cass. Myron Richardson won first prize in the Junior Guernsey Heifer Class, and Henry Covington pulled in first prize in the utility class of farm mechanics, with a tractor posthole digger.

It takes 6 or 7 times as many acres to feed a population by growing grain for livestock and eating the livestock products, as it does if the people eat the grain itself, according to Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson.

Section 8. Any person who shall maliciously or wrongfully injure or interfere with, cut, destroy any of the property, structures or other property of the said grantee, constructed or used by it in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance, within the limits of the Town, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not more than five dollars nor less than one dollars.

Section 13. This ordinance shall be in force from its passage.

II. That upon the adoption of this ordinance by the Mayor and Council it shall be the duty of the Clerk to cause to be published for a week for four consecutive weeks in some newspaper of general circulation in the Town, the ordinance contained in the foregoing sections, and in addition to such advertisement the Clerk shall notify the officers of the Council of the time and place when bids shall be received, which bids shall be delivered to the Clerk or to the officer of the Council in charge of the next regular meeting of the Council in open session at the time and place of the next regular meeting of the said body to be held next after the last publication of the said advertisement. ...ner powder not only ...beauty of the com- ...removing the shiny, ...but softens harsh ...ers, if properly ap- ...evenly to the skin.

Some women have an idea that powder clogs the pores of the skin, thus preventing the escape of impurities through the pores. Many of these women dust their faces with talcum, under the delusion that they are beautifying themselves without injuring their complexions.

Talcum is useless as a protection and comes off very quickly. It has its uses as a body powder, especially for babies, but is a failure as a face powder.

The making of a powder is really an art. An ancient formula that is still popular requires the finest and purest almond meal, orris root, wheat and rice starch. These are sifted by machinery many times through cloth, then tinted and perfumed with a delicate oil.

After the process is completed the mixture is soft and fine, possessing the quality of adhering to the skin, to which it imparts a velvety appearance.

No complexions are white. The powder should be chosen not only for its quality, but particular attention should be paid to its shade, the natural tints of he skin.

The shades most in use are achieved by adding carmine and achre to the white materials until the desired shade is obtained. There are many beauticians who will blend powder to suit almost any complexion.

OF INTEREST TO VETERANS

The Social Security amendment of 1958 overhauled the system generally, increasing Old-Age, Survivors and Disability insurance benefits, improving the system's actuarial status, and strengthening the public assistance and welfare provisions.

Of importance to aging veterans still under 65 was an amendment in the closing days of the 85th Congress eliminating offset provisions under which non service connected pensions were deducted from Social Security disability payments. In 1956, Congress authorized monthly payments to persons covered by Social Security who became totally and permanently disabled between 50 and 65, but provided that such payments should be reduced by the amount of any other Federal disability benefit, or State Workmen's Compensation.

Congress thus deprived disabled veterans receiving compensation or pension of full benefits payable to non veterans. Although Congress later corrected the discrimination against service connected veterans, the veteran totally disabled from non service connected causes still had to offset his pension against Social Security disability payments.

Beginning with August, 1958, disabled veterans may be paid their full Social Security disability benefits, even if they also receive Workmen's Compensation or VA compensation or pension.

VA. RANKS SEVENTH

Virginia placed seventh in the nation in Savings Stamp sales, according to the current national report of stamp sales during the 1957-58 school year. In 1956-57, the Old Dominion placed ninth in stamp sales volume.

During the past school session, 94 of the 115 school divisions in Virginia conducted school savings activities. Mo erthan 214,000 pupils were enrolled in these schools, and stamp sales totaled $556,005.

Norfolk City, Smyth County and Fairfax County had outstanding programs.

In Norfolk schools, with an enrollment of 36,609, 34% of the pupils were participating.

In Smyth County, almost entirely rural, the 6,984 pupils enrolled purchased $33,121 in stamps during the school year. In Fairfax County, the program was in operation in 67 of the 68 schools, with 30% of the pupils saving regularly.

The Virginia School Savings program in the white public schools has been carried on under the auspices of the Virginia Education Association by a committee headed by Dr. Edward Avvey, Jr., as chairman during the more than sixteen years of operation.

The stamp program in the schools for negro children is sponsored by the Virginia Teachers Association, under the leadership of Dr. J. Rupert Picott, Executive Secretary.

In the parochial schools, leadership is supplied by the Superintendent of schools, currently Monsenior Flaherty.
